

Some thoughts from our colleagues:

Dr. Andrew Romanelli BPhEd, DC, MSc., CAT(C), DAc - Clinician, Campus Clinic, Canadian Memorial Chiropractic College

“I have had the pleasure to know Jarrod on a personal and professional level these last five years, working collaboratively alongside him as a clinician at CMCC. In addition to the excellent mentorship provided to his interns on all aspects of life and practice as a chiropractor, he has demonstrated excellent ethical and moral values befitting someone running for the District 7 academic position.

He has routinely expressed the desire to see a thriving, functional CCO council working cooperatively to protect the public, and in the best interest and advancements of our profession. I have no doubt of the commitment and expertise he would bring to this role, and unequivocally endorse his candidacy”.

Kwong Chiu, B.Sc., D.C., F.C.C.O.(C). Assistant Professor, Clinician, Dept. Clinical Education

“Hi Jarrod, I would be pleased to support you in your run for CCO district 7”.

Dr. Dominic Giuliano – CMCC

“I have known Jarrod a very long time and his reputation, integrity and professionalism speak loudly and for themselves. I honestly believe Jarrod would have a lot to offer as a CCO member and would serve the public’s interest well. Jarrod has been a valuable teacher of many chiropractic interns. Jarrod has gained the respect of many students and has molded many young chiropractors with distinct professional values. I want to wish you the best in your pursuit as a CCO member”.

Dr. Robert Gringmuth, DC, FRCCSS(C), FCCPOR(C), Sport & Rehabilitation Specialist, Assistant Professor, Canadian Memorial Chiropractic College

“Hello Jarrod I am definitely in support of you running for district 7 for the CCO”.

J. Kim Ross DC, PhD, Associate Professor, Director of Education, Year 1, Canadian Memorial Chiropractic College

“I first met Dr. Jarrod Goldin in 1992 when I taught him body mechanics and technique when he was a Year I student at CMCC. There was no question he was one of the most engaged students in his class. After graduating in 1996 and starting a private practice, he returned to CMCC in the role of clinician at the CMCC outpatient clinic. In that role he has continued the same level of engagement and has transferred that trait to many students over the years, preparing them very well for a successful career. Dr. Goldin would be an excellent representative of the profession in the CCO”.
