

Transitions at CCO

December 22, 2021

CCO is very pleased to announce that Dr. Katherine Tibor will start training for the role of CCO Director of Professional Practice in January 2022.

Dr. Tibor has been a CCO member since 2006 and, for several years, has owned and operated a chiropractic practice in the North York area of Toronto. Dr. Tibor has been a CCO peer assessor for the past 5 years and has experience in research and development, presentation delivery, and teaching.

Dr. Tibor will be working closely with Dr. Bruce Walton, currently CCO's Director of Professional Practice, Mr. Joel Friedman, Deputy Registrar and other CCO staff, over the coming months, to ensure a smooth transition. CCO is grateful to Dr. Walton for his ongoing efforts to make this a successful transition. Dr. Walton has made significant contributions to CCO over the past many years, starting as a peer assessor from 2001-2008; as Chair of the Chiropractic Review Committee from 2003-2008, and in his current role, supporting the Quality Assurance Committee as Director of Professional Practice since 2008. CCO sends a heartfelt acknowledgement and thank you to Dr. Walton for his many years of exemplary service, and for his efforts in making CCO's Quality Assurance program a success.

CCO is also confident that Dr. Tibor will bring her own great skills and qualities to her new role as CCO's Director of Professional Practice.

The search team wishes to thank all the fantastic candidates who put their names forward in application for the position. It is great to see such highly qualified chiropractors willing and motivated to participate in the regulation of their profession.

Please join us in both thanking Dr. Walton and welcoming Dr. Tibor!

Dr. Katherine Tibor,
CCO member since 2006

"It is a great honour to have been selected as the new Director of Professional Practice. I am excited to begin training alongside Dr. Walton and Mr. Friedman, while getting to know the ins and outs of this role. What I look forward to most is working with CCO's staff, QA Committee, and Peer Assessors, to ensure the continued success of the Peer and Practice Assessment Program."

Dr. J. Bruce Walton,
CCO member since 1990

"It has been an incredible privilege to work with the CCO staff team these past many years. I will be forever grateful for the opportunities I have had including helping to build a stellar QA program for CCO. I will miss the staff, peer assessors, Council, and members of the profession immensely."

Building on the momentum the QA team has maintained for these past many years, I am confident that Dr. Tibor will bring great enthusiasm and commitment to serving CCO, the public and the profession with integrity and professionalism ensuring a very positive outlook for the future of CCO's QA program!"
